CATHY DOMSCH

Born and raised in Atwood, Kansas, Cathy has always been deeply connected to the heart of rural America, a place she still proudly calls home. This connection ignited her passion for community foundations and their transformative impact on rural communities.

As the first Executive Director of the Bird City Century II Development Foundation, she led strategic initiatives that fueled economic and infrastructure growth. In 2008, under Cathy's leadership, the BCCII board of directors rebranded as the Greater Northwest Kansas Community Foundation. This change aligned with her vision of creating a regional community foundation that fosters collaboration among northwest Kansas communities for shared growth and success.

After two decades in the public sector, Cathy transitioned to the private sector, taking on the role of Business and HR Manager at SurePoint Ag Systems. Her time there further inspired her, as she witnessed firsthand how a positive organizational culture drives business success and employee retention. After 18 months, Cathy embraced her entrepreneurial spirit and launched a career as a business coach, continuing her collaboration with SurePoint as their HR Business Partner.

Today, Cathy thrives on helping individuals and organizations achieve growth and success. Passionate about fostering healthy workplace cultures, she empowers businesses to create environments where employees feel motivated and engaged. Cathy has found her calling in teaching and supporting others to reach their fullest potential—in life and work.
